

The Daily Courant.

Wednesday, September 8. 1714.

London, September 8.

Yesterday arrived the Mails due from Holland.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Sept. 14.

Rome, August 25.

LAST Monday the Pope nominated Cardinal Gozzadini to go to Parma in the Quality of Legate à Latere. The Cardinals de Schrottenbach and Imperiale did not assist at this Nomination, and sent each of them a Protest to the sacred College, by which they acknowledge their Imperial Majesties and no other for King and Queen of Spain.

Parma, Aug. 25. Great Preparations are made here for celebrating the Marriage of our Princess with the King of Spain, and we expect shortly a Legate à Latere, who will have a Retinue of 360 Persons.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Sept. 15.

Baden, Sept. 3. On Saturday the Marshal de Villars came to Bronk within two Miles of this Place, where he was met and treated by some of the French Ambassador's Servants. He designed to come hither Yesterday Noon; but being informed that Prince Eugene of Savoy would not be here till 10 Day, he resolved to stay there that Night. This Afternoon about 4 o'clock Prince Eugene of Savoy came hither, as did also the Marshal de Villars at 7 this Evening, each of them having but a small Retinue of Servants. The Prince lodges in a House which was provided for him, and the Marshal in the Count du Luc's House. The Town is at present so full of People, that there is not a Lodging to be had; but this will not be long, for some pretend to know that to Morrow will be spent in reciprocal Visits, that the 7th Instant the Peace will be signed in the Town-House with the usual Ceremonies, and that the 11th there will be an end of the Congress. 'Tis likewise said, that the Envoys of the Protestant Princes here, will make Instances to both the Generals Plenipotentiaries for the Re-establishment of the Articles of the Treaty of Westphalia which relate to Religion, but that they will not obtain any thing; and that tho' the signing of the Treaty of Peace be not retarded by the Alteration in England, yet the Negotiation between the Courts of Vienna and Madrid will be laid dormant. Lastly, 'tis said, that the Affairs of Italy, and particularly those of the Duke of Savoy, will take a new Turn from the forementioned Alteration; and that the Court of Rome has rendered itself odious to that of Vienna, by making the Match between King Philip and the Princess of Parma.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Sept. 11.

Brussels, Sept. 6. Some Advices from Paris tell us, that the Circular Letters dispersed throughout Catalonia, on the Part of the Barceloners, had produced such Effect, that above 30000 Catalonians had taken Arms, to make a Diversion: They add, that a new Convoy of 25 Majorcan Vessels had got into Barcelona.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Sept. 14.

Paris, Sept. 7. We have Letters from the Camp before Barcelona of the 21st and 23d past, which tell us that they expected a new Supply of Troops and Provisions for continuing the Attacks; that in the mean while they went on by the Sap, and that it would be 10 or 12 Days before they could be able to give the general Assault.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Sept. 15.

Paris, Sept. 10. Letters from Gironne of the 26th of August advise, that the Besiegers of Barcelona were carrying on their Mines, enlarging the Breaches, and battering the Intrenchments behind the Breaches: That a Body of 8 or 9000 Catalonians was advanced to the Llobregat within three Leagues of our Army, in order to make some Attempt in favour of the Besieged, but that they were observed by the Generals de Montemar and Bracamonte; besides, the Marquis de Thony was marched against them, as were also 300 Horse detached from the Camp under the Command of M. d' Arpajou. 'Tis advised from the Camp the 27th, that the new Batteries and others would all begin to fire together that Day without Intermission; so that the Besieged would not have any Opportunity to repair any Works. The Marshal Berwick proposed to employ half the Army in giving a general Assault the 2d of this Month, and afterwards the other half if it should be necessary. P. S. 'Tis reported, that the Troops sent against the Body of the Catalonians, surrounded them in the Plain of Martorel, and gave them such a Defeat, that 1500 of them were killed, and 3000 taken Prisoners; which Prisoners are to be carried to their usual Places of Habitation, there to be all hanged.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Sept. 15.

Brussels, Sept. 13. The 11th arrived here Count Konigseck, and he will proceed in a Day or two to Antwerp (where the Treaty of Barrier with the States of the United Netherlands, is to be negotiated.) We have Advice from Dunkirk, that the Working on the new Canal of Mardyke does not go on so fast as 'twas said it would; and 'tis imagined, that the Death of the Queen may Occasion some Delay at least in that Work. Letters from the Camp before Barcelona of the 29th of August, say all Preparations were making for a general Storm on that Place the 2d or 3d Instant.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Sept. 15.

Hanover, Sept. 11. The King of Great Britain, and his Royal Highness the Prince, set out this Morning from Herrenhausen for the Hague.

London, September 8.

Yesterday Morning arrived a Messenger from the Hague, with an Account that his Majesty would arrive there on Sunday last. 'Tis also said his Majesty proposed to embark for England this Day, Wind permitting.

London, September 8.
